

The Ultra Premium IP Desk Phone

Grandstream's GXV3140

If your IP desk phone doesn't support HD, doesn't have a full color high resolution screen, and doesn't provide free three-way video conferencing then you've probably been stuck with one of our competitors' products...

Grandstream Networks

Recognized as a premier retailer in the VoIP industry's online marketplace, Telephony Depot provides superior solutions for both business and personal needs.

Take business communications to the next level with Grandstream's GXV3140 IP Multimedia Phone.

At Grandstream, we don't think a next-generation IP desk phone should rely on old analog architecture and applications. If you're moving to VoIP, why not take full advantage of all the business functionality that IP has to offer?

Our GXV3140 IP Multimedia Phone offers all the traditional business telephony features that you're used to, but adds additional tools like video calling, video conferencing, and instant messaging.
